Great Free Kansas Moeting in New York.

On Tuesday evening April 29th. about four thousand of the good people of New York assembled at the Tabernagle to express their sentiments on Free Kansas, Resolutions were passed and a number of speeches made, The following are extracted from the remarks of Mr. W. Everts, which are so good that we make room for them.

Now we suppose that this subject of shall be deemed equivalent to gold and the extension of Slavery to Territories, which, if they have any government, are governed by the federal power, is a legi-timate subject of federal politics and we this act shall at any time be indebted or intend to act accordingly. We suppose that it is a more important subject of federal politics than any other, and we intend to act accordingly. We have called you together, and you have respond its dealings, in which name shall be inon the following accounts -that is to are heard from one quarter of the land to the other. This is a practical question First-On account of its notes of cirfelt in the way that politicians understand, Second—On account of moneys de-osited with or collected by such bank; Third—On account of bills of exchange of drafts drawn against money actually misled into any inquiry or sympathy; however aggravating the wrong of the slave may be. We do not intend to be drawn into any discussion of mere ethics. or of mere philanthropy for the "inferior race," as they are called by our southern brothern. We do not intend to unsettle any social relation, but we intend to exercise the clear right of freedom in deter-mining that new and large regions shall be devoted to ires labor upon the one hand, and to the exclusion of Slavery on the other. [loud cheers.] In determin ing this principle, we have no occasion to quarrel with any of the dogmas that are assumed or argued by those who havean interest in Slavery. It is said by them that Elavery in this country has been pledged, any portion of its capital stock to the purchase of certificates of state stock, to be deposited with the Treasurer cur opinion it has been productive of unof State, as collateral security for the re- mixed evil to the white man.
